Overview of the role

Global Cyber Security Capacity Centre is looking for a Global Engagement and Communications Officer. Reporting to the Lead of International Operations, and collaborating closely with the Directors, researchers and the Project Coordinator of the GCSCC management, successful candidate will work to generally enhance the communications and outreach activities of the Centre.

Responsibilities

- Help write, edit and proof-read a variety of communications, including: website and social media content, stakeholder briefings, news items and press releases, promotional materials, presentations and other outputs that may be developed in support of the Centre’s aims.
- Liaise with communications teams from across the University, specifically including the Department of Computer Science and the Oxford Martin School, to ensure that they have awareness and materials to promote the work of the Centre
- Support a consistent look and ‘brand’ for the Centre in all communications, producing clear, concise and well-formatted documents to promote activities or disseminate findings, as required
- Support GCSCC event management whether online events, our Annual Conference held in Oxford (and in particular, immediately, the GCSCC Annual Conference 2024), and other co-

branded conferences, workshops, seminars and activities to ensure these enhance the reputation and reach of the Centre and produce clearly defined outputs

- Support the Directors and the Lead of International Operations in preparing presentations for high-level audiences during meetings and events, so they can more effectively present the work of the Centre and communicate the aims of the research at a strategic, non-technical level
- Support research staff in the delivery of outputs such as working papers, case studies, blogs or other content, to increase and enrich the materials and tools publically available to further the capacity-building aims of the Capacity Centre as a whole
- Contribute to the development and delivery of a programme of stakeholder engagement, working closely with the Directors and the Lead of International Operations, other Centre staff, as well as staff from the regional centres and international partners
- Support the technical board and research team to implement an advocacy plan which will involve working with seniors from across our network to develop and write joint blogs and to secure speaking opportunities with members of the GCSCC
- Undertake such other tasks commensurate with the grade and role as may be reasonably required.

Selection Criteria

Essential

- Educated to degree level or equivalent professional experience.
- Extensive communications experience in print, digital and social media
- Proven experience in producing effective web content
- Excellent writing skills and attention to detail, with a proven ability to communicate complex concepts to a non-specialist audience.
- Excellent interpersonal skills, including diplomacy and the ability to inspire the confidence of senior colleagues.
- Ability to work independently in a complex environment, taking initiative when necessary and prioritising effectively to meet deadlines.
- Proficiency working with a range of computer-based and online applications, including website content management systems.
- Excellent research and analytical skills, including the ability to interpret complex data.

Desirable

- Professional qualification in public relations or marketing
- Experience working in higher education
- Knowledge or interest in subject area of the Centre

Pre-employment screening

Standard checks

If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

Please read the candidate notes on the University's pre-employment screening procedures at:

<https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/pre-employment-checks>

About the University of Oxford

Welcome to the University of Oxford. We aim to lead the world in research and education for the benefit of society both in the UK and globally. Oxford's researchers engage with academic, commercial and cultural partners across the world to stimulate high-quality research and enable innovation through a broad range of social, policy and economic impacts.

We believe our strengths lie both in empowering individuals and teams to address fundamental questions of global significance, while providing all our staff with a welcoming and inclusive workplace that enables everyone to develop and do their best work. Recognising that diversity is our strength, vital for innovation and creativity, we aspire to build a truly diverse community which values and respects every individual's unique contribution.

While we have long traditions of scholarship, we are also forward-looking, creative and cutting-edge. Oxford is one of Europe's most entrepreneurial universities and we rank first in the UK for university spin-outs, and in recent years we have spun out 15-20 new companies every year. We are also recognised as leaders in support for social enterprise.

Join us and you will find a unique, democratic and international community, a great range of staff benefits and access to a vibrant array of cultural activities in the beautiful city of Oxford.

Department of Computer Science

The Department of Computer Science was established in 1957, making it one of the longest-established Computer Science departments in the country. It is one of the UK's leading Computer Science Departments (ranked first in a number of international rankings). Our Computer Science and Informatics submission to the UK Research Excellence Framework (REF) in December 2021 resulted in 81% of research activity ranked as 4* (world-leading) and the rest ranked as 3* (internationally excellent). A significant majority of the Department are active in externally sponsored research, with both government and industrial funding. At present, there are 74 members of academic staff and 100 research staff.

The Department has close links with government, industry, and other departments within the University. Among the latter are Mathematics, Engineering, Physics, Statistics and life sciences. The Department is housed across multiple sites within the University's South Parks Road Science Area, facilitating strong collaborative links with research groups and institutes in closely allied areas (including the Oxford Internet Institute and the Oxford e-Research Centre). At present, the Department holds over £50m in external research contracts.

Research in the Department is currently managed in ten themes:

- Algorithms & Complexity Theory, led by Professor Leslie Ann Goldberg, focusses on determining the inherent difficulty of computational problems, classifying problems according to this inherent difficulty, and designing and analysing algorithms that use computational resources as efficiently as possible;
- Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning, led by Professor Michael Wooldridge, focuses on theoretical foundations of AI, multiagent systems, deep learning, reinforcement learning, and computational linguistics;
- Automated Verification, led by Professor Marta Kwiatkowska, investigates theory and practice of formal verification and correct-by-construction synthesis for software and hardware systems;
- Computational Biology & Health Informatics, led by Professor Blanca Rodriguez, is concerned with computational approaches for biomedical research and healthcare innovation;
- Human-Centred Computing, led by Professor Nigel Shadbolt, includes human-computer interaction, social computing, and the worldwide web;
- Data and Knowledge & Action, led by Professor Ian Horrocks, includes databases, knowledge representation and reasoning;
- Programming Languages, led by Professor Sam Staton, includes functional programming, program analysis, and programming language foundations;
- Quantum, led by Professor Jonathan Barrett, focusses on quantum computing including quantum software, causality in quantum theory, quantum cryptography and foundations of quantum computing;
- Security, led by Professor Ivan Martinovic, specialises in cybersecurity, protocol analysis, systems security, trusted computing, and networking.
- Systems, led by Professor Niki Trigoni, focusses especially on cyber physical systems. We plan to substantially broaden our research in systems to complement our existing research areas.

For more information, please visit: <http://www.cs.ox.ac.uk/>.

The Department of Computer Science holds a bronze Athena Swan award to recognise advancement of gender equality: representation, progression and success for all.

The Mathematical, Physical, and Life Sciences Division (MPLS)

The Mathematical, Physical, and Life Sciences (MPLS) Division is one of the four academic divisions of the University. Oxford is widely recognised as one of the world's leading science universities and the MPLS Division is home to our non-medical sciences, with 9 academic departments that span the full spectrum of the mathematical, computational, physical, engineering and life sciences, and undertake both fundamental research and cutting-edge applied work. Our research tackles major societal and technological challenges – whether developing new energy solutions or improved cancer treatments, understanding climate change processes, or helping to preserve biodiversity, and is increasingly focused on key interdisciplinary issues. We collaborate closely with colleagues in Oxford across the medical sciences, social sciences and humanities, and with other universities, research organisations and industrial partners across the globe in pursuit of innovative research geared to address critical and fundamental scientific questions.

MPLS is proud to be the home of some of the most creative and innovative scientific thinkers and leaders working in academe. Our senior researchers have been awarded some of the most significant scientific honours and we have a strong tradition of attracting and nurturing the very best early career researchers who regularly secure prestigious fellowships and faculty positions. MPLS continues in its work to support diversity in its staffing, seeing that it will bring benefits to all, and we are pleased to note that all academic departments in the Division hold Athena Swan Awards.

We have around 7,000 full and part-time students (including approximately 3,500 graduate students) and play a major role in training the next generation of leading scientists. Oxford's international reputation for excellence in teaching is reflected in its position at the top of the major league tables and subject assessments. MPLS academics educate students of high academic merit and potential from all over the world. Through a mixture of lectures, practical work and the distinctive college tutorial system, students develop their ability to solve diverse mathematical, scientific and engineering problems.

MPLS is dedicated to bringing the wonder and potential of science to the attention of audiences far beyond the world of academia. We have a strong commitment to supporting public engagement in science through initiatives including the Oxford Sparks portal (www.oxfordsparks.ox.ac.uk) and a large variety of outreach activities; these are crucial activities given so many societal and technological issues demand an understanding of the science that underpins them. We also bring the potential of our scientific efforts forward for practical and beneficial application to the real world and our desire, aided by the work of Oxford University Innovation and Oxford Sciences Innovation, is to link our best scientific minds with industry and public policy makers.

How to apply

Applications are made through our online recruitment portal. Information about how to apply is available on our Jobs website <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/how-to-apply>.

Your application will be judged solely on the basis of how you demonstrate that you meet the selection criteria stated in the job description.

As part of your application you will be asked to provide details of two referees and indicate whether we can contact them now.

You will be asked to upload a CV and a supporting statement. The supporting statement must explain how you meet each of the selection criteria for the post using examples of your skills and experience. This may include experience gained in employment, education, or during career breaks (such as time out to care for dependants)

Please upload all documents as PDF files with your name and the document type in the filename.

All applications must be received by midday UK time on the closing date stated in the online advertisement.

Information for priority candidates

A priority candidate is a University employee who is seeking redeployment because they have been advised that they are at risk of redundancy, or on grounds of ill-health/disability. Priority candidates are issued with a redeployment letter by their employing department(s).

If you are a priority candidate, please ensure that you attach your redeployment letter to your application (or email it to the contact address on the advert if the application form used for the vacancy does not allow attachments).

If you need help

Application FAQs, including technical troubleshooting advice is available at:

<https://staff.web.ox.ac.uk/recruitment-support-faqs>

Non-technical questions about this job should be addressed to the recruiting department directly (hr@cs.ox.ac.uk)

To return to the online application at any stage, please go to: www.recruit.ox.ac.uk.

Please note that you will receive an automated email from our online recruitment portal to confirm receipt of your application. Please check your spam/junk mail if you do not receive this email.

Important information for candidates

Data Privacy

Please note that any personal data submitted to the University as part of the job application process will be processed in accordance with the GDPR and related UK data protection legislation. For further information, please see the University's Privacy Notice for Job Applicants at: <https://compliance.admin.ox.ac.uk/job-applicant-privacy-policy>.
